

She was first woman elected to Ky. Supreme Court. After 26 years, she's leaving the bench.

By Bill Estep

bestep@herald-leader.com

October 13, 2017 5:59 PM

Appeals Court Judge Janet Stumbo has submitted her resignation, ending a judicial career in which she was the first woman elected to the state Supreme Court without having first been appointed.

Stumbo submitted her resignation by letter to Gov. Matt Bevin and chief Justice John Minton. It is effective Dec. 31.

Stumbo said she has loved being a judge but was ready for a break after more than 26 years on the bench.

Read more here:

http://www.kentucky.com/news/state/article178780666.html?anf=TOP_STORIE...

Last updated on October 23, 2017.

Print

Table of Contents

NEWS

News & publications

The news about recent activities for needed peoples.

More News

28 Mar 2024

Project Renew Paralegal Position Opening in Somerset

Project Renew Paralegal Position Opening in Somerset, KY ...

Continue Reading

21 Mar 2024

Pro Bono Volunteer Spotlight

The Eric C. Conn Social Security fraud resulted in thousands of low-income...

Continue Reading